Course Information Sheet

CHC51015 Diploma of Counselling

RTO Provider No 40564

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This nationally recognised qualification reflects the role of counsellors, who work with clients on personal and psychological issues using established counselling methods. During the course students will learn communication, counselling and interviewing skills and a variety of counselling therapies to assist clients with personal, mental, social and emotional wellbeing issues.

Gallang Education & Training requires that potential students for this qualification are currently employed (or volunteering) in the community services and health industry supporting Aboriginal communities. This ensures assessment requirements that skills be demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment are met.

On completion of this qualification students can undertake further education and training or seek employment within the community services industry in positions such as Counsellor, Case Manager or Support Worker.
